

Passing!

Written by Helen McCommon

Tuesday, 09 February 2010 10:05 - Last Updated Sunday, 14 February 2010 23:16

What is up with stupid drivers who ride the left lane for hundreds of miles, below the speed limit? MOVE TO THE RIGHT! If people have to pass you on the right, you are going TOO SLOW! And.....

when you ride up alongside a semi doing the truck speed limit and traffic starts stacking up behind you, put your foot on the vertical pedal on the right and get moving. You want to enforce traffic laws? Be a cop. And don't speed up when someone actually driving the speed limit comes up beside you, or signals for a lane change. And WHY, for God's sake, WHY, do some people speed around you when there's miles of open space behind you, just to stomp the brakes and make a right turn?